MIKE CONNER SPEAKS IN BAY ST. LOUIS TO LARGE CROWD VOTERS

Stands For Retrenchment and Economy in Governmental Affairs—Is Author of Several Bills For Constructive Government.

Mike Conner, for eight years speaker of the Mississippi house of representatives and one of the four candidates for governor, addressed a responsive audience at the courthouse here on Wednesday night.

Before delivering his address at the courthouse, he was the guest of honor of the Bay St. Louis Rotary club at the Weston hotel where he made a short but interesting talk.

Mr. Conner, a man of pleasing personality, is a splendid speaker and delivered an instructive address. He asked that the voters cast ballots for the best man and went into the official records including that of himself.

Whether you agree with Mr. Conner or not you are impressed with his sincerity. He was introduced as a man who had the courage of his convictions. He left here for Gulfport last night to address a Coast rally.

His address in part follows:

"I favor the development of a uniform state system of permanent roads, constructed of available material within the reach of our finances, and without bankruptcy. Brick roads are proving unsatisfactory, and their cost is prohibitive to us at this stage of our development. They must be laid in concrete, and concrete roads are good enough for us. Roads should not be constructed without ample provision being made for their maintenance. I present this estimate by a recognized authority to show that other hard surfaced roads may be maintained by the difference in interest to be paid on bonds for the construction and the amount required to be paid on bonds necessary to construct brick roads, and we save the additional construction costs.

"The highway problem has long since become a state problem and I have for many years urged the advisability of reorganizing our road laws, reorganizing our highway department, and re-arranging our system of financing road building and maintenance. This should be done after careful and unselfish study by trained minds in an efficient and equitable manner. It is not a political problem, but must be worked out by experts in engineering and finance as a business proposition. I shall lend every encouragement to its solution in this manner.

"As a legislator I stood and as a candidate I stand for retrenchment and economy in governmental affairs consistent with sound business principles and the public welfare, and have sought to bring these policies into the administration of state affairs by definite means.

"I was chairman of the House Reorganization Committee which, by the indirect action of the legislature by the governor, declined to recommend any extensions at that time, and presented numerous bills to the legislature designed to force from hiding property escaping taxation, and to bring our laws and are now working effectively.

"On October 4, 1917, I made a speech in the House which was ordered printed and circulated at public expense by unanimous vote, in which I characterized the issuance of current expense bonds as a criminal practice in government and urged that it be abandoned.

"I am the author of laws giving the people the power to determine road tax levies, which passed the House without a single dissenting vote, requiring all bonds issued to be submitted to a vote of the people before the bonds are sold, and requiring counties and towns to operate on a cash basis, within their income, thus balancing their local budgets, which constitute 75 per cent. of our total expenditures.

"I am the author of the measure vesting in the people the power to recall from office at any time tax levying and money-expending officials whose services are unsatisfactory, instead of suffering under the mismanagement until the expiration of their terms of office, as the law now is. This measure passed the House by a vote of 108 to 6, but lacked one vote receiving the required two-thirds vote in the Senate.

"It thus appears that I have been at work for economy. The legislator who would have our state neglect its duty to its citizens and wards, starve the benevolent and educational institutions, decline to function as a civilized state, and return to savagery, has a false conception of economy. It is easy to vote 'No' and follow the course of least resistance, but civilization was not born of such a spirit.

"The burden of property taxes should be reduced, and home-building encouraged by taking, insofar as possible, just and equitable, the burden of road maintenance from the homes and placing it upon the state, by the continuation of the income tax.

"The income tax brought into the state treasury last year nearly two million dollars, and it is possible a reduction in the state tax on the railroad, and a reduction in the income tax, would bring in more than that amount.

SIDNEY LEVIN, 14, DIVES IN SHALLOW WATER—INJURED

Son of Summer Residents May Die From Injuries Received July 4th While Diving—Fracture of Neck Result—In Critical Condition.

Sidney Levin, 14-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Levin, of New Orleans, spending the summer on the north beach at one of the Conrad Sick summer dwellings, is in critical condition at Touro Infirmary, New Orleans, as a result of injuries sustained while diving in shallow water on the bay shore Monday. He was taken to New Orleans the same day and it is believed his injuries are pronounced a fractured neck.

The boy was bathing with four youthful companions, who dragged him to a point where attention could be given after he had made the possible fatal dive in shallow water.

A splendid lad, he is president of his class at the Newman Manual Training school, where he recently finished his third year.

A salary of $50,000, lives in a hotel, owns no property, and the foreign cotton buyers who operate in the state during the cotton season, making a handsome profit, and then return home, both of whom own no property in our state and otherwise would pay no tax to maintain the government that protects them in their operations. We pay the same rate of taxes on our farms, mules, stores, etc., whether we make money or operate at a loss. The income tax is more equitable because it is levied upon you until you have cleared all costs of doing business and deducted the reasonable living expenses of yourself and family. If you don't make the money, you don't pay the tax. If you make it, you are able to pay it and should be willing to do so in order to reduce the burden on the homes.

"For the convenience of the taxpayer, I would have the state adopt the same form of returns as used by the Federal government, and in order to reduce the cost of administration, I would have the exemptions increased as the Federal government has done, thus eliminating many collections made under the present system, which cost the state more to make than it receives from them.

"I am the independent candidate in this race. I neither own a newspaper, nor am I owned by a newspaper. No organization of politicians and pie hunters have made me run. No campaign has been waged in this state, the outcome of which was of more importance and vital to the welfare of our people than the present one. There are those who are now seeking to control the government by the use of money, and there are others who are seeking to control it by political manipulation. There are those who would elect a corrupt man so they can buy him. There are others who would elect a weak man so they can handle him. I appeal to you to classify the candidates according to their past records, present alignments and encourage expense bonds as a criminal practice in government and urged that it be abandoned.

"Four years ago a young man 32 years of age, with little acquaintance and no organization, I was caught between the two great political lines, and I had the time to get our message to the people. We polled almost 50,000 votes, and a change of 8,500 votes would have put me in the second primary. In this campaign I am speaking to more people in one week than I addressed in six weeks in my other campaign. Our old friends are with us and thousands of new ones have joined our ranks. It is daily becoming more evident that we will lead the ticket in the first election, and be elected by a great majority in the second primary.

"It is an insult to the intelligence of our people to say that the best man can not win. Do not listen to the siren voice of political expediency which is the last refuge of the political manipulator when he is compelled to admit that the training, record and qualifications of his candidate are not the best. I would scorn your vote if you gave it to me upon any other basis than that you believe by doing so you will be serving the welfare of the whole people.

"If you endorse the principles for which I have fought all these years, and are convinced of my character and sincerity, and are persuaded my qualifications and ability are sufficient to handle what is in this campaign, regardless of former alignments, if you elect me, I will devote every ounce of the energy of my manhood, and whatever talents I possess, to making of Mississippi a more progressive, more prosperous, and an even more decent home for our people. If I am not your governor, in the ranks of the private citizenry of our state, I will remain loyal to the same principles, and endeavor to do the same for good government.

RECEIVE BIDS FOR BRIDGES

Louisiana Opens Bids For Rigolets and Chef Projects—Suit Pending.

LOUISIANA HIGHWAY COMMISSION PLANS

Frederick Snare Corporation of New York Lowest Bidder, $944,441.33.

Baton Rouge, La., July 6.—With a bid of $944,441.33, Frederick Snare Corporation of New York City was the low bidder for the construction of substructure and approaches to the proposed Chef Menteur and Rigolets free bridges on the Chef Menteur highway, tabulations by the Louisiana Highway Commission showed today. C. A. D. Bayley & Co., Inc., of New Orleans, was second low bidder with a bid of $975,136.00. Other bidders on the combined proposal were: U. G. I. Construction Company, Philadelphia, $1,113,172.31; Hardaway Construction Company, Columbia, Ga., $1,114,448.27; Missouri Valley Brick & Iron Company, Dallas, Tex., $1,268,447.76, and Un on Brick & Construction Company, Kansas City, irregular.

The last named bidder was declared irregular because he failed to follow instructions by stating on his proposal that he would use domestic materials as stipulated by the commission. Both combined and separate bids were made on the two projects. Considerable interest in the bidding was manifested throughout the day and the Highway Commission offices were crowded with prospective contractors, surety bondsmen and engineers.

The approaches and the bridge across the Chef Menteur, estimated by the commission to be 1,885 miles in length, and the Rigolets bridge and approaches, 738.3 miles. Both bridges are federal aid projects. The Highway Commission will meet its share of the expense from the sale of $2,000,000 of bonds authorized recently by the state board of liquidation. The bond issue will be met by licenses and taxes as provided for under the constitutional provisions of 1924. The Hammond-New Orleans highway will also be completed from funds derived from this bond issue.

The question of free bridges over the Chef and Rigolets has been the cause of considerable agitation during the last two years. June 29, Dr. John K. Griffith filed suit in district court here against the Highway Commission, seeking preliminary injunction to enjoin the commission from proceeding further with its plans for the construction of the bridges. The case was scheduled for hearing in Judge George K. Favrot's division of the court last Tuesday, but the case was postponed until Thursday following the filing of a rejoinder of no cause or right of action by attorneys for the commission. Major Frank T. Payne, of the Highway Commission, stated at the time of the filing of the suit that he would proceed with the bids unless prohibited from doing so by a court order.

BIG CELEBRATION AT KILN ON FOURTH OF JULY

Many county and district candidates journeyed to Kiln on the Fourth of July to participate in the big celebration held at that place. It was a typical crowd, good natured and willing to participate in the spirit of the day. A general picnic, political speeches and two games of baseball were features of the day. A similar celebration was held at Sellers, reported to have been a bigger affair, drawing from both Hancock and Harrison counties. Both events were interesting and enjoyable.

SUCCESS DESPITE HANDICAPS

Mid-Summer Annual Festival for Catholic Church Attracts Many.

LOUIS J. BURG AS GENERAL CHAIRMAN

Full Reports of Fair to Be Made Later Following Committee Meeting.

The mid-summer festival, given on the college lawn on Saturday and Sunday evenings for the benefit of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic church, was, despite the many handicaps, a success.

The prospect on Saturday was not very promising, due to the fact that numerous entertainments were on the boards, principally among which being four dances that kept the crowds away till midnight, but on Sunday it was different. Many participated in the festival and it went over big, the crowds remaining until everything was sold out.

Up to this writing it is impossible to ascertain the exact amount realized at the fair, because full returns have not yet been made. Rev. Father Grimes, however, feels assured of very nice returns to the end.

The success of the festival is due to the untiring efforts of the devoted zealots who left no stone unturned and surmounted all obstacles toward their goal.

Mr. Louis J. Burg, who was the general chairman of the festival, was ably assisted by Mr. Christian Capdeville and Mrs. Claude Monti and a corps of devoted workers.

A full report of the proceeds of the fair will be made in a later issue of The Echo.

SOPHRONIA HAS RAINBOW WEDDING FOR LOCAL BENEFIT

Members of W. B. A., of Bay St. Louis Present Unusual Entertainment—Many, Crowd K. C. Home and Are Delighted With Evening.

Although the evening was warm the K. C. Home was crowded to full capacity, Thursday night to witness a special benefit entertainment staged by local talent, under the auspices of the Women's Benevolent Association of Bay St. Louis, for a worthy cause. It is not remembered when K. C. Home held so many guests for an entertainment.

"Sophronia's wedding" was the title of a two-part entertainment, the first of the evening, before the wedding, at the home of the bride-elect, when the presents were admired by a number of typical gossips, old friends of mothers. This scene was interspersed with clever dialogue, singing, and between the act clever and artistic dancing.

"Phronie's wedding followed a scene of unusual attractiveness, a real bride and groom-to-be with so many maids and attendants. A rainbow wedding of much charm and beauty, and as someone expressed it, what pity it was not an actual, bonafide wedding. Miss Alice Blaize was the bewitching bride, while Franklin Raymond was the youthful groom.

Parson Harry S. Saucier performed the ceremony, according to the rites of the Church of Common Sense, and added to the success of the ceremony.

Misses Miriam and Levia Engman, who were indefatigable in the success of the affair, creating and coaching, were presented with vanity sets, during an intermission, by Miss Matilda Ladner, on behalf of the cast and the ladies of the W. B. A.

The bride lacks room, but wish it could particularize the excellent work of every member of the cast. It has been a long time since the like was seen locally and many professional performances have fallen short by the standards set Thursday night.

The program follows: Act I—Parlor of Sophronia's home on readiness for wedding shower. Mrs. U. Snodgrass, president of Tatletown society—Leona Gilbert.

Mrs. Abner Doddridge, fat and gossipy—Miss Mossy Spriggs, rather an acid drop—Marie Vassall.

Death of Mrs. Josie Lister.

Mrs. Josie Lister, a native of Michigan, died in this city at the home of Mrs. Kate Conner, with whom she had made her home, Sunday evening at about 7 o'clock.

She had been ill for quite a while, an invalid, but due to the tender ministrations of her friend, Mrs. Conner, and others, her vitality stood in long and good stead.

She was the widow of the late agriculture agent for the L. & N., and before coming to Bay St. Louis some years ago was a resident of Buchanan, Mich.

The remains are at the mortuary parlors of the Fahey Undertaking Company and will be taken to Bay Minette, Ala., for burial either this Friday morning or tomorrow, awaiting the arrival of three sons, John Lister, of Los Angeles, Calif.; Frank Lister, of San Jose, Calif.; and Burt Lister, of Buchanan, Mich.

News of the death of this estimable and most charming woman will be learned with genuine regret by the wide circle of friends who knew her, in that section of the North where she formerly resided and in this section of the South.

The conference held in Biloxi Saturday between H. C. Dettzer, state highway commissioner; L. P. ### HARRISON HITS PARTY HARD LICK

CRITICISES USE OF MOUNTING SURPLUSES

Great Speech Delivered at Progress, in Pike County—Fourth Celebration.

Several thousand persons gathered at Progress Saturday, under the sheltering shade of an oak grove to listen to United States Senator Pat Harrison. He flayed the republican party for its "continued deception of the farmer by fostering of on him the nefarious high tariff while at the time affording protection to the special interests and privileged classes of the east."

The senior senator from Mississippi was before an appreciative audience and his eloquence brought thunderous applause time and time again from the throng of his admirers.

The occasion was the annual Fourth of July celebration staged by citizens of Progress community, an inland rural community, in the southeastern part of Pike county.

The Independence Day fete came two days ahead of time, but this did not lessen the crowd, nor detract from its enthusiasm. Many state and district and county candidates addressed the crowds during the afternoon. Senator Harrison did not go into the present state political campaign, dismissing it with the remark, "You are going to vote for the right man. That is what I am going to do."

The senator was introduced by Judge J. H. Price, of Magnolia, and latterly associate justice of the Mississippi supreme court, who paid high tribute to the senior senator as a statesman and as a citizen.

Senator Harrison denounced corruption in politics as found in Illinois and Pennsylvania and bitterly opposed any effort to cancel farm debts. "The party now in power is piling up one huge surplus after another," he declared, "but they are not doing your taxes as they should be doing. Sometimes that surplus reaches $350,000,000 and sometimes it amounts up to $100,000,000. Instead of using that surplus to reduce our taxes, that party is paying off its national debt. It is a good thing to pay off the national debt, but that party in power will pay this debt off in fifteen years."

"This is wrong, it should be paid off in 28 or 30 years. If you pay your national debt in 18 years, then you are going to go into trouble. Our allies have made a mistake. England is paying us 82 cents on the dollar. Italy 27 cents. These payments are scattered over over 62 years. If we are clear of a national debt in 18 years, our allies are going to come to us and say, 'You are surely you are not going to make us pay anything you are out of debt.'"

Senator Harrison strongly advocated increased pensions for Confederate veterans. "The next state legislature should increase those pensions to put them on a par with the Southern states. Surely there can be no division in thought in that."

Insurance commissioner: T. M. Henry and Ben Lowry.

Commissioner of agriculture and commerce: J. F. McKay and J. C. Holton.

State land commissioner: R. D. Moore, T. R. Christmas, E. B. Ryndolds.

Railroad commissioner (First District): S. B. Alexander, J. N. Hall.

Penitentiary trustee (First District): Mrs. W. A. Montgomery, John Armstrong.

CANDIDATES WITH NO OPPOSITION IN THE COMING PRIMARIES

Closing of Entries in Hancock County Primary Election

Day By Day in Mississippi

By Helen Goodwin Yerger

(Copyright, 1927.)

Sea Coast Echo Jackson Hqds.
Room 101, Lamar Life Bldg.
Jackson, Miss., July 6, 1927.

At midnight of Saturday, July 2nd, the bars were put up against all entrances in the great Mississippi "Candidates' Handicap" of 1927, and those who were so fortunate as to have no opposition may now boast of their political invincibility without having to "touch wood." There are six state officers who found themselves in this delectable state of mind on Sunday morning. These are Walker Wood, secretary of state; Rush Knox, attorney general; Billy Buck, clerk supreme court; W. J. Miller, revenue agent; W. F. Bond, superintendent of education; and Webb Walley, for state treasurer. The first five of these were candidates for re-election, but in the case of Mr. Walley it was simply "ask and you shall receive." When the state democratic executive committee meets on Tuesday, July 5th, these candidates will be declared the party nominees and their names will not appear on the official ballots in the August primaries.

Among the "state district" offices—prison trustees and railroad commissioners, W. F. Lagrone, railroad commissioner from the Third, or Northern district, is the only candidate without opposition and he also will be declared the nominee for that office. For the balance of the state ticket, except in the race for governor, the first primary will end the agony, but in the governor's race the pace continues to get faster and faster; it almost got "furious" last Thursday when Murphree and Conner clashed at a political barbecue at Benton, Yazoo county. It was not exactly a joint discussion but it was the first time that the candidates for governor spoke at the same meeting. Murphree opened in the forenoon and gave most of his time to Conner, and the latter replied in the afternoon. Both speeches were reported to be rather "warm" and a good deal of "feeling" was aroused among the partisans of each candidate.

Report comes simultaneously from Louisville and Durant that huge cheese factories have chosen those places as the location for their Southern plants. Officials of the Kraft Cheese company have visited Durant and it has been definitely decided to locate their first southern plant at that place. Louisville reports the location of another large plant there, due to the efforts of Louisville business men and that M. & N. railroad. Report also comes from Yazoo City that the Delta View Cheese company is now in operation and running for the present on a day-me schedule. One thousand gallons of milk daily is being used in the plant and more will be used by the other two plants mentioned above. With the location of these plants and the large condensers in this state, dairying will soon become a major industry of the state.

According to Dr. Felix J. Underwood, state health officer, in an address printed in the Southern Medical Journal this month, malaria morbidity has been reduced 52 per cent. in the last eleven years, and article Dr. Underwood declared that any county in the state having a full-time health department and a population of 30,000 or more could successfully reduce malaria to the control point within a period of about five years time by following the plan outlined in the reports of the State Board of Health. In concluding the same article Dr. Underwood outlined the work planned by the State Board for the coming year and predicted that with proper co-operation and assistance, they would soon be effected, and later the control of malaria and dengue fever.

On last Friday the first N. O. G. N. freight train to enter Jackson on its own line pulled into the new N. O. G. N. M. & N. depot at 1:15. Some two hours earlier the first passenger train came into the new terminal with about fifty passengers. This is the first step in the completion of the new trunk system from New Orleans to Chicago and is an event of unparalleled importance in recent railroad history in this state. Great stimulation of trade is expected to follow the completion of this new system and Jackson is expected to receive great commercial benefit therefrom.

The repair and reclamation of roads and highways in the Mississippi Delta has been further delayed by the slow drop in the flood waters, according to H. C. Dietter, state highway engineer. Road crews are still at work on those roads not inundated by the second rise of the river.

Refugee camps throughout the state are gradually being abandoned and only those utterly destitute are to be taken care of after August 1st. The Red Cross has announced that its intention is to remain in the state until it can be of no further service.

The American Legion Auxiliary, under the leadership of Mrs. R. H. Tucker, state chairman of relief work, is getting plans under way for the relief of ex-service men and their families.

In brief, the more serious aspects of the flood situation have been relieved and all attention is now being turned toward rehabilitation and reclamation.

Arrival of the first appeal case from a "county court" under the law which creates these new jurisdictions, has raised a few perplexing questions in the office of Supreme Court Clerk, which are causing Clerk W. J. Buck some concern. This first case is from Warren county and is styled "Vincent Russo vs. Joseph Mondell." The amount involved in the suit is of no great consequence, but as the case comes to supreme court it presents the question as to whether the supreme court should act on the judgment of the county court or the judgment of the circuit court affirming that of the county court. Mondell won the case in the county court of Warren county and was given a judgment against Russo. Russo appealed to the circuit court of Warren county, and that court rendered a judgment affirming and remanding the case to the county court. Now Russo appeals from this judgment of the Warren circuit court to the supreme court of the state. In the ordinary case when the circuit court renders a judgment and an appeal is taken from that decree to the supreme court, and the supreme court affirms the lower court's decision, the law automatically adds interest and damages to the judgment. But in this county court appeal the judgment of the county court does not carry interest and damages, and the circuit court did not render a new judgment of its own, but simply affirmed the judgment of the county court. If, therefore, the supreme court affirms the case as presented by the record, it would seem that it is simply affirming the circuit court's decree, which in turn simply affirms the county court's decree, and interest and damages would not be collected on such judgment.

Maj. Herbert A. Dargue, of the United States Army Air Corps, told the people of Jackson Friday that within a few years every city of the size of Jackson would be compelled to have an air port for the landing of mails and perhaps freight and passengers. He made the prediction that a city without such modern facilities would be like one without a railroad. Maj. Dargue and Mr. W. O. Lochner, head of the National Association of civic organization secretaries, stopped in Jackson on their good-will tour of the country in the interest of commercial aviation. With air planes now making flights across the Atlantic as almost a daily pastime and the Pacific also, the day is believed to be at hand for the establishment of regular air routes for passenger and freight carriers. Air mail service is now coming to be recognized as a necessity and no up-to-date city can afford to be without its airport. Jackson is planning for the acquisition of a landing field of its own and has the choice of several admirable sites north, west and south of the city and close to the suburbs.

Mississippi showed a decided slump in income taxes paid the federal government for 1926. In 1925 the total tax paid the government was $1,135,729, while for 1926 citizens of this state only enriched the federal treasury by $989,451. In these figures can be read the signs of tightening trade conditions and more conservative investment by citizens of the state, and by no means indicates that the people of Mississippi are some 9 per cent. poorer than they were during 1925.

Here is an opportunity for some enterprising Mississippi town to put itself on the map. It is announced that the Woodmen of the World have sold their mammoth skyscraper home building at Omaha, Nebraska, and are seeking another domicile, preferably in one of the Southern states. Some idea of what the location of this building would mean to a town may be gathered from the single fact the home office of the Woodmen of the World employs 384 stenographers in addition to an army of filing clerks, accountants, office heads and assistants. Its monthly payroll runs up into six figures and numbers many hundreds of salaried employees. The monthly clearances average more than two million dollars. The employees and their families, connected with the home office of the Woodmen would make up a population larger than the average Mississippi city. Prominent Mississippi Woodmen here say that the management of the society would rather come to Mississippi than anywhere else, but they do not wish to come as "intruders," they would like to have a hospitable invitation and assurance that they would be welcome. Many cities in other states are already out to get the Woodmen headquarters as it is practically certain that a handsome home office building will be erected at the new domicile to be selected.

Announcement of John L. Smith, of Jackson, as a candidate for Lieutenant Governor came today on the eve of closing the list of state candidates, like a "bolt out of the blue." Mr. Smith had several times threatened to run but it was thought he had given up the idea. His entry makes a three-cornered fight as Bidwell Adam of the Gulf Coast, and Lowrey Love, of Hattiesburg, were already in the race.

BAY ST. LOUIS AGAIN STANDS OUT IN PROMINENCE

M. Luther Ansley Breaks Record For Mississippi Power Company With Selling Achievement For Ranges—Business Is Uppermost.

"Power Lines" is the name of the official weekly publication for the Mississippi Power company, published at Gulfport.

It is quite an interesting publication and frequently contains reference of local interest. We find in a recent issue reference to a citizen, M. Luther Ansley, resident manager, that stands Bay St. Louis out in prominence. Mr. Ansley is quite modest and whatever success he acquires he wishes it to go to the city in which he resides, saying his residents make it possible.

Under heading of "A Record For Ranges" we find the following: "Mr. M. L. Ansley, our local manager at Bay St. Louis, has established another enviable record, this time for the sale of electric ranges. Mr. Ansley sold and delivered a total of thirty-one ranges during the campaign against a quota of ten. This brings Mr. Ansley's record up to 57 ranges for this year. His personal aim at the end of the year was to have sold 50 by July 1st, but he has already exceeded his own goal a month early and still going strong.

"During the last week when the last five ranges were sold at the Bay two of his prospects failed him so he sold thirty shares of preferred stock. Mr. Ansley tells us that he is going out for a 'stock week' now since he has about wound up on ranges. No doubt he will set another record for this business, and his former records still remain unbeaten."

In a later issue of "Power Lines" we find the following headed with a half-tone picture of "Lindbergh No. 2" as he is frequently referred to by his company, accompanied by the following sketch:

"The photograph is one who, while intimately known to all of us on the Coast, feel that those of you upstate who have not personally had the pleasure and a treat in store for you. Extreme modesty on the part of Mr. M. L. Ansley prevents me from giving other than a very brief outline of what this gentleman is really capable of, but needless to say, he is local manager of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, our farthest southern property. As a salesman, his name is always up toward the top, if not at the top, whether it be preferred stock or merchandise, and whenever a customer comes in, he is always effecting, Ansley can always be reckoned as a contender who does not permit me to say more about this gentleman, but cannot close without adding that those of us who know him so well, including me, to writer, deem it a pleasure and an honor, for he is a gentleman of many sterling qualities, and last, but not least, a steadfast, loyal company man heart and soul, and our wish and hope for him is more power and long continued prosperous activities."

Frequent Bilious Attacks

"I suffered with severe bilious attacks which came on one two or three times every month," says Mr. Ollie Miller, of Murray, Ky. "I would become dizzy. My head would ache terribly, feeling as if it would almost burst. It felt exactly like a tight band was being drawn closer and closer around my temples."

"My stomach would be so upset I could not retain any kind of nourishment for hours. I would have to quit work and go to bed."

"My color was awful. I was yellow and my skin was drawn and dry. I did not have any energy—no ambition to work. I was just about half sick most of the time because of these spells."

"One day one of my neighbors, who has used Theodore's Black Draught for years, said he had noticed how bad my color was and thought it would help me."

"I got some Black Draught immediately and began to take it regularly until I got my system clear of the poison. I had been aching, aching began to feel better and developed a fine appetite. I had no more bad headaches or bilious spells."

A. & G. THEATER GETS THRILLER FOR SUNDAY-MONDAY

New Comedy Team of Great Promise Makes Its Debut at Local Show House—To Show Two Nights and at No Advance of Prices.

Karl Dane and George K. Arthur, two screen comedians who have appeared during the last two years in a large number of box office successes, are now being presented to the picture-going public as a comedy team. Their initial appearance as a team will be in "Rookies," a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer farce comedy based on life at a citizen's military training camp and which is soon to be shown at the A. & G. Theater, Bay St. Louis, on Sunday and Monday nights, and at no advance of prices.

Karl Dane was made famous overnight in "The Big Parade," King Vidor's remarkable film starring John Gilbert. Dane was one of the trio of American doughboys and had the comedy role of Slim, the tobacco spit-in worker who helped save the world for democracy.

A Popular Player. Since that time he has appeared in a number of big feature pictures released by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. In "La Boheme," Lillian Gish's starring vehicle, he had the role of the con-cierge, while in Miss Gish's "The Scarlet Letter" he played the part of Giles.

He had a comedy role with John Gilbert in the latter's "Bardelys the Magnificent," and was also with Tim McCoy in "War Paint." Dane has a featured role in Marion Davies' American production, "The Red Mill," and has a great comedy part in "Slide, Kelly, Slide," M-G-M's epic of the baseball diamond.

Arthur's career is almost as starting as Dane's. He made his debut in American pictures as the boy hero of James Cruze's "Hollywood," and then appeared in and helped produce Josef von Sternberg's "The Salvation Hunters."

Already a Veteran. He has just completed the role of Mr. Whipple in Marion Davies' new Cosmopolitan picture, "Tillie the Toiler," and recently played a featured comedy role with Ramond Navarro and Alice Terry in "Lovers."

He played a great comedy role with Miss Davies in "Lights of Old Broadway," and had the part of the prince in her "Beverly of Graustark." He appeared opposite Norma Shearer in "Lady of the Night," and played the featured comedy role, a French fop, in John Gilbert's big medieval production of "Bardelys the Magnificent."

Harry Rapf, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer producer, conceived the idea of presenting Dane and Arthur as a comedy team, though the name of either is sufficient to carry the weight of a single production. Their introduction as a team goes to prove that picture producers are willing to go to almost any length to give the picture-goer really good entertainment.

Sam Wood, who directed many of Wallace Reid's successes as well as other big productions, was chosen to preside at the megaphone.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY.

After waiting long and patiently for his waiter to appear with his order of ham and eggs, the nervous Mr. Wollup accosted another waiter and asked "How long have you been working here?"

"Two weeks, sir," replied the waiter.

"No," said Mr. Wollup, sadly. "You are not my waiter."

SOUL OF HONESTY.

"I beg your pardon, sir, but I am soliciting donations for our rummage sale. What do you do with your old clothes?"

"Why, I brush them carefully at night, and I put them on again the next morning."

A THOUGHT.

When better air castles are built, everybody will build them.

SUBTLE OLD FISH.

Her Father—"Then you ought to be abolished by the board of health."

"She treated me like I was a photographer."

"How come?"

"She handed me her negative."

STATE EDITORS AND WHAT THEY SAY

LOOKING ON THE BRIGHT SIDE

The Smith County Reformer, unlike most reformers, believes the world is growing better, and says so in the following language: "The editor of this paper is not an apostle of the doctrine that the world is growing worse and worse with every passing year. On the contrary, we believe that though the wicked may be waxing more wicked, the righteous are growing stronger and more militant with every passing hour. In this world in which God has placed us to live, let's not meditate everlastingly upon the things that are evil, but let's gather the flowers and pass up every possible thorn, as we journey down life's way."

A GOOD SUBSTITUTE.

In Washington, county the flood wrought havoc, the Greenville Democrat-Times, published in the hardest hit city of the delta, says: "It would be a great thing if the re-habilitation program for the flooded area would include the substitution of cows for cotton. It's too late to raise much cotton this season, but feed stuff will grow and mature before the fall frosts. If cows are brought to the farm as soon as the water recedes and grasses and forage start growing there will be immediate revenue. The Greenville Creamery will buy all the milk that is brought to them. They pay cash every week. And there is money for the channels of trade almost on the heels of the receding waters."

A SPLENDID MOVE.

The Star-Herald of Kosciusko says: "The organization of the Atala County Development association, to replace the Atala County Chamber of Commerce, means a greater era of prosperity in this section."

The association will be county-wide and business man and farmer from every nook and corner of the County, will be found working side by side for the development of the natural resources of old Atala.

We have made much progress here in the past, but much more will be made in the future by organized efforts.

The Association at present has but one object in view—that of securing a condenser. To this end an extensive dairy campaign will be put on and will be in charge of an expert in this line, who will also act as Secretary.

Not only will this expert aid present dairy farmers in every way possible, but through the banks and business men will place thousands of additional cows with responsible farmers throughout the county. It is the duty of every public-spirited citizen to join the association and lend a helping hand.

HOW WE HAVE ADVANCED.

The Laurel Leader carries the following article on "Longevity:" "The average 10-year-old boy may reasonably expect to live to the age of 64."

On the first American Independence Day, the average duration of life was 35 years; in 1900 it was 49; in 1910, 51, and now it is 58.

Life was more precarious in our early days. Danger always pressed. The wolves disappeared. The Indians became civilized. Medical science improved disease. Sanitation came and all the agencies that serve mankind developed to add to happiness and life.

Longer life means added earning power.

Insurance experts estimate that the earning power of the American people has increased three and one-half billion in the last quarter century. Twenty years ago the average baby had a potential value of $7,500; the 1927 baby is worth about $9,000.

However, increasing the average does not mean increasing the life of any individual. Our chances are better, but unless we make the most of them, our chance is meaningless, for our lives are just what we make them for ourselves.

We can't buy a new car on average prosperity; neither can we live longer on average longevity.

Chief of the Drys

THEY ARE LIKE THAT.

"Didn't you say there was some thing you liked about me?"

"Yes, but you've spent it all."

SIGNALS.

Downtown
The other day
I espied a Snappy Blonde
And decided
To talk with her
Whichever told me
To please observe
The traffic rules
Which I did
And it said "Go"
And I did.

MORALS OR MOLARS.

"I need lots of pull to succeed in my business," remarked the dentist, as he extracted another tooth.

BAY STARS WIN TWO GAMES ON HOME FIELD SUNDAY AND MONDAY

Southern Bell Telephone Company's Team, of New Orleans Go Down In Defeat Before Strong Bay Team—
Scores: Sunday, 13-5; Monday, 12-9.

The Bay Stars met and decisively defeated the Southern Bell Telephone team out of New Orleans in two games out at Rockchaw Park on Sunday and Monday.

The Sunday game went to the locals by a score of 13 to 5 and the game on the glorious Fourth was garnered in by 12 to 9.

"Son" Capdepon and Ed. Gindroz formed the battery on Sunday. "Son" hurled a fine game, permitting but seven hits during the contest. His supporters behind him went on a batting rampage and rapped the pill all over the lot for fourteen safes, which included a homer by Gerald Price and three doubles by Sid Raymond, Ed. Gindroz and Gus Capdepon. The latter particularly shining at the first station in his wonderful fielding of the position.

The fielding of the outer garden was starred by Joe Favre who made many spectacular stops of what looked like extra base raps.

The work of the star infield was brilliant. Hess and Courtenay were the battery for the Telephones.

The Bay boys repeated on Monday and cleaned the series. Jack Ladner was on the mound for the locals, with Gerald Price on the receiving end. Jack started off on the wrong foot and gave free transportation to five men in the first inning and it seemed like curtains for Jack, but he settled down thereafter and allowed only three hits during the entire game.

Thighs lunched hits in two frames and got enough to salt down the works. "Boo McNutt" featured with the willow in the fourth inning, when, with the bases loaded, he drove out a homer to left center that did the "Old Dutch" work. The Stars got another batting bee in the seventh and tallied seven more runs.

Jack Ladner was robbed of a homer when Bill Thomas picked his long hit off the centerfield fence in one of the most remarkable catches seen here.

Th Bay Stars will journey to Ocean Springs next Sunday for a game with the Gars. Either Jack Ladner or "Son" Capdepon will do the hurling, while Ed. Gindroz will receive.

With such a team as Gus Capdepon has gathered here there's no doubt of the Bay getting the big end of the sport advertising this summer.

Capdepon will shortly announce free game at Rockchaw Park on Sundays.

Rumored Movement to Create a New County

The possible creation of another county in addition to the 82 already within the state's boundaries, looms up with rumors from Biloxi that committees appointed at a recent meeting held in that city are studying problems in connection with the proposed formation of a new county of at least 400 square miles in area to be formed from the eastern part of Harrison county and the western portion of Jackson county. Biloxi, it is said, would be the county seat, and the name would be either Biloxi or Iberville.

The western boundary would begin on West Beach, of Biloxi, in Harrison county at DeBussy avenue and run north to the Stone county line; thence east to the Jackson county line, north to George county; thence east for several miles beyond Red Creek. This line would then run south, taking in the Vancleave sector, reaching the Gulf several miles from Ocean Springs. It is estimated that the assessed valuation in this territory is between twelve and fifteen million dollars.

This matter of a new county has been under discussion for some time and has been brought out on several occasions. To create a new county there must be a favorable vote in the legislature, and affirmative vote of a majority of the electors of the districts proposed to be included in the county.

While reports of the movement have been published in New Orleans and Biloxi newspapers, no plan of procedure has been given out.

Everybody Pays For Fire Losses.

After pointing out that last year 14,000 lives were lost and 16,000 people injured as the result of fires, and that property loss amounted to $559,000,000, or more than we paid for our entire system of national defense in the same period, T. Alfred Fleming, of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, said:

"The question comes to my mind—Who pays this loss? Insurance companies are but collectors and distributors of the fire loss. They pay the losses as they occur, thus enabling the re-establishment of business, but collected all such amounts, with the cost of doing business, in the premiums of succeeding years. The rates paid are large or small in proportion to the fire losses."

The moth larva does but one thing and does it well—it eats and eats and eats. Carpets, rugs, upholstery, clothing, woollens and furs are riddled with holes to satisfy the enormous appetite of the moth larva. Fly-Tox kills the moth, the eggs and the larva.

Fly-Tox is the scientific insecticide developed at Marjory Institute of Industrial Research by Rex Fellowship. Simple instructions on each bottle (blue label) for killing ALL household insects. Insist on Fly-Tox. Fly-Tox is safe, stainless, fragrant, sure. Every bottle guaranteed.

Local Stable Equipped For Horse-Back Riding

The revival of interest in horse-back riding by the leaders of society throughout the country has put Dobbin again into the limelight and his center along into the bright paths make the good old days come back with a rush.

Today, with his head erect and neck gracefully arched the proud saddle can now throw a glance of contempt at his arch-enemy, the auto.

Bay St. Louis society can now fall in line for the firm of Lizanna & Roemer, on the Old Spanish Trail, are supplied with an excellent stable and are ready to cater to those who seek the exhilarating sport. They announce that free riding lessons will be given after 5 p.m. each day.

New Cables, Poles and Wire All Devoted to Your Service

THE big job of extending and improving the telephone service in the South is engaging the best efforts of the Southern Bell Telephone workers.

It is now estimated that 66,000 new telephones will be added to the system this year, and that the gross expenditures for additions and replacements will amount to more than $29,700,000.

Mississippi is enjoying a substantial share of this growth and of this expenditure, and telephone service throughout the State is more efficient, more extensive and more valuable to the subscriber than ever before.

Last year enormous quantities of material and apparatus were used to extend and improve our service. In Mississippi, alone, the additions and replacements required 881 carloads containing 11,719 poles, 27 carloads containing 878 reels of cable, 21 carloads containing 2,718 miles of copper wire, one carload containing 141 miles of iron wire and 1 carload containing 11,188 feet of underground conduit.

The success of the big program under way this year depends, in a great measure, upon your cordant cooperation, which encourages the telephone workers in their efforts to serve you better.

More Than 600 Cars Pass Bridge Daily

Mobile, July 6.—Illustrating the popularity of a direct means of highway traffic between the eastern and western shores of Mobile Bay, more than 19,000 motor vehicles crossed the new bay bridge and causeway during the first 30 days of its operation, John T. Cochran, president of the Mobile Bay Bridge Company, announced Tuesday.

Statistics compiled by the bridge company officials showed that traffic from June 4 to July 4, inclusive, exclusive of June 14, the date of the dedication on which tolls were not collected, totaled 19,801 vehicles, a daily average of 660.

Gross receipts from tolls during the 30-day period amounted to $24,708.30, representing an average per day of $821.61.

"The figures prove that our estimate of income when drawing the financial plans was conservative, in that the actual receipts for the first 30 days considerably overran the estimate," said John T. Cochran, president of the Bay Bridge Co.

"It also proves that Mobilians who bought bonds not only did a civic service but made a good investment as well."
